

To our LJT Festival Family,

It's hard for us to fathom an entire year without LJT Fest after 31 years, but it's been hard to imagine a lot of things that have happened in 2020. When we announced our postponement back in April, we thought there would be some positive development in the months ahead and fully expected for the pandemic to be past us by October. We also were pretty confident back then that we would have some answers and reliable information that would allow us to safely move forward with such a large event for our fans, artists, sponsors and staff. Unfortunately, this is not the case. We have struggled to find ways to produce the festival while minimizing the risk to everyone who attends, but considering the known crowd size and the lack of credible data we have today about Covid-19, we are unable to provide the adequate safety and management structure of this event in October. We've exhausted every possibility for this year and for numerous reasons we will push this event back to April 19-24, 2021. We've seen several small events take place over the last month with much success, however, the size of this event, even if limited to advance ticket holders, would be much larger. Due to this fact alone, we'd be unable to obtain the necessary state and local permits required during this time.

If you are a current ticket or camping holder, or a VIP/Sponsor, you should receive an email today regarding your options moving forward. Tickets for April 2021 are available now at www.larryjoetaylor.com for those of you who would like to attend but have not yet purchased tickets. We expect very little change in the 2021 lineup from what we had planned for this year, and we will begin to announce our April 2021 line up next week.

Producing live music events is something we genuinely love, we are sincerely missing it, and especially missing all of you. We believe our Texas music scene is strong and unique in many ways, and we are fully committed to bringing you a fantastic LJT experience. We look forward to getting back to work, making LJT 2021 the best one yet. See you all on The Mountain in April!

Y'all stay safe,
The Taylor Family and Crew
